

Once upon a time, there was boy called Jack, his mum and his dog called Bella.

They lived and worked in an old burger van but they were poor.

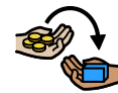

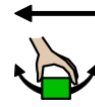

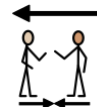

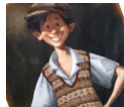

1

One day, Jack's mum asked him to buy milk and coffee with their last few pennies.

On the way, Jack met an old man and used the pennies to buy baked beans.

When

he

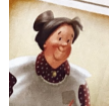

got

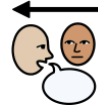

home,

his

mum

said,

"You did WHAT?".

She

threw

the

baked beans

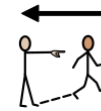

out of

the

window

and

sent

Jack

to

bed

without supper.

That

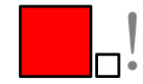

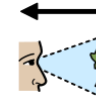

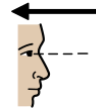

Jack

was inconsolable.

In the morning, Jack looked out of the window and saw an enormous, green beanstalk.

Jack crept outside and climbed the long, curved tendrils.

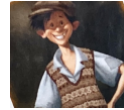

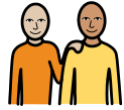

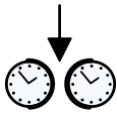

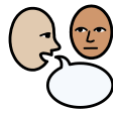

At the top, he found a tall, golden castle and he met a friendly, rich giant.

They became friends and the giant made Jack a delicious, healthy lunch.

 Soon  it was time to  say  goodbye.

As  Jack  climbed  back  down the  beanstalk,  SNAP!

 CRASH!  BANG!  WALLOP!

The  giant  crashed to the  ground.

Finally,  the giant  was welcomed by  everyone and  he  got a job in the  burger  van.

They  all  lived  happily  ever  after.
